

Compliment Jar Activity

Get friends and family to write something down they appreciate about each other or something they think they do well. Without each other seeing it have them fold it up and pop it in a jar for that person.

Then when that person needs a pick me up they can reach into the jar and pull out a compliment to remind them how amazing they actually are.

Beat
Eating disorders